GAS BOND ELECTION ON JUNE 30

To Decide Upon Extension of Mains to Woodland District

NO OPPOSITION YET

No Protest Against Organization of Improvement District

June 30th has been decided up-
on as the date for the election
for the extending of gas into the Verdugo Woodlands section. An ordinance was introduced at the council meeting last night by Councilman Kimlin calling the election, at which time the residents of that northern section decided whether or not they want
their territory bonded for the extension of the gas company's
mains and the creating of laterals.
Last night was the time set for the hearing of protests against the establishing and organizing of improvement district No. 6, which includes the Verdugo Woodlands
section. There were no protests received and the city attorney was instructed to take the next step
necessary for the creating of this improvement district.

The people of the Verdugo Woodlands have been striving for the past six months to bring this gas proposition to an issue and it seems they have at last succeeded.
When he appeared before the council last night, Mr. Bolen stated that in his belief there will not be a dissenting vote cast on election day. The people of his section, he says, are anxious to bond
their district for this much needed improvement.

SIDEWALK SIGNS ARE ABOLISHED

City Council Acts on Ordinance After Considerable Discussion

Sidewalk signs must go. So say
the members of the city council.
At the meeting of the council last night an ordinance was adopted
which makes it unlawful to erect
or maintain any sign or other advertising feature on the sidewalk
farther than one foot from the front of the store or building. This matter produced some heated discussion on the part of the council-
men and when the smoke had cleared away the vote stood as follows: Stevenson, Robinson and Kimlin for the ordinance and Lap-
ham and Davis against it.

This matter has been under discussion by the council for a long time. Time and again it has been laid over for further discussion
only to be brought up at the next session. When it was presented
last night surprise was expressed
by a portion of the council, who thought that the matter had been dropped for good. Then and there the fireworks began. The discussion went merrily on for fifteen minutes, after which a vote was called for.

"During my recent trip to San Francisco," said Mayor Robinson,
"I did not see a sidewalk sign in any of the towns I went through.
I feel that these things are a detriment to the city, and although I am in the real estate business and
will be affected by the ordinance,
I am going to vote in favor of it."

JINGLING JAZZ OF THE NEWS By Bert Marple

The builders of the city want a bond for every job.
They say they can't compete
with shyster way.
While bakers get a license for the
bakery business here,
And now they say they'll make
their business pay.

The sidewalk signs must vanish
from the walks of Glendale
soon.
No more they'll clutter up our
pretty streets;
The firehouse up in Grand View
will be opened Saturday.
With speeches, songs and dances
—and some eats.

The setback law is settled—now
foundations are in line;
White P. T. A. Cerritos, meets
to plan;

Miss Roberts gets a shower, she'll
be married, pretty soon;
This lucky maid has captured
her "one man."

A camp permit for Sandlin, he will
feed the motorists,
While Frazier gets some finger
prints, I guess;

The Shriners welcome pilgrims—
Women's club, Crescents,
meets.
They tell us in this evening's Daily Press.

Henry James Believes Pyramids Would Not Make Very Good Boat

Henry James does not agree with Dr. Getsinger in the belief that Cheops was the ark in which Noah lived during the flood and in his comment on the day's news he gives various reasons why a pile of stone could not possibly serve
in the capacity of a buoyant boat.

Trials and difficulties in this life are the things which re-
new aspirations and awaken
dead spirits, according to James W. Foley's philosophy
in the Listening Post this evening. "Find the thing to do
and do it with a spirit that is awake," says Mr. Foley.

Editorials this evening deal
with the freedom of the Filipino, the meanness of theft,
the highway labor situation and Ford's decision not to seek the presidency, even though he is in a mood to listen to the call.

Dr. Frank Crane this evening has an interesting character study on David Wark Griffith and Della Stewart's
little confidences. John Pilgrim, top, offers us daily contribution and the editorial
page is completed with the eastern point of view and a poem by Sir Thomas Wyatt.

CALL TO HARDING DRAFTED BY MEN OF RAILROADS

Convention Decides to Ask President to Prevent Wage Cut

(By LAWRENCE MARTIN)
CINCINNATI, June 9.—Drafting
of an appeal to President Harding
to prevent the $109,000,000 wage cuts recently ordered by the United States railroad labor board
being made effective July 1, was begun here today by a special committee representing 1,200,000 shop
and maintenance of way employees
of the railroads.

"Suspend the wage reductions
until we have had an opportunity to prove to the country and to the labor board their inequity and the disastrous effect their enforcement
will have upon the workers," was
to be the gist of the appeal.

A week will be required in its preparation, B. M. Jewell, head of the railroad employees' department,
American Federation of Labor, said today.

Statistical experts of the railroad
unions began preparation of a detailed analysis of the wage and
cost of living situation.
The decision to appeal to Harding was reached late last night in an executive meeting of union leaders representing virtually all the crafts hit by the wage reductions.
There is no question of Harding's power to suspend the operation of the labor board's order, union
leaders said.

The appeal will be carried to Washington by a committee, which will lay before the president a detailed written argument of the workers' case, buttressed with the experts' figures. They will ask him
to hold up the wage cut and order
a new investigation of the entire
subject of railroad wages by some
governmental agency.

At last night's meeting a committee on strike program was named to prepare for a strike if
the union men vote for it, and the appeal to Harding is considered
a new investigation of the entire
subject of railroad wages by some
governmental agency.

Announcement from Chicago
that another wage cut, affecting 350,000 clerks, signal men, marine department employees and stationary firemen, would be ordered next week by the labor board, created
no surprise among the union leaders here.

DELIVERY BAKERS ORDERED LICENSED

Fight of Local Men
Against Out-of-Town
Rivals Is Cause

It was practically decided by the city council last night to levy a license on the manufacturing and delivering bakers in Glendale. The city attorney was instructed to draft an amendment to the license
ordinance to conform with a similar section of the business ordinance of San Diego, this to be presented at the next meeting. This step is being taken on the petition
of the bakers themselves, who claim that it is not fair to local
bakers to permit out of town firms
to bring their products in here, as they are doing at this time.

The out-of-town bakers, the Glendale men claim, pay practically no tax to the city of Glendale,
but they wear out the streets of the city far more than do the local
men, most of whom run no delivery wagons. The Glendale men
keep the money at home, while the
out-of-town bakers take the money
to other sections.

Councilman Stevenson moved
that the city attorney be instructed to draw up the necessary
amendment and all members voted
in favor of the move.

DRIVE FOR EAST SIDE LINE OPENS

Committee Takes Field
for Bonus to Electrify
East Glendale

$25,000 IS SOUGHT

Meeting in Harrower Laboratory Starts Work on Union Pacific Plan

At the luncheon and business
session of the East Glendale Advancement association, which was entertained Thursday at the Har-
rower laboratory, members concentrated on their two big propositions, the electrification of the railroad line on Glendale avenue,
which is owned by the Union Pacific company, and the proposed
hotel on the northeast corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway.

The first business taken up had
to do with the proposition to aid
the Glendale-Montrose railroad to enter into an arrangement with the Union Pacific to electrify its line
and take over the operation of a passenger and freight service, by raising a bonus to be applied on the cost of electrification. Subscription blanks were approved by vote, and a committee of volunteers to solicit subscriptions for this fund was enrolled which included the following members:
Mr. and Mrs. John Lampert, Mrs.
Mabel Tigh, Mrs. Fray, Mrs. Her-
ring, Messrs. Stanley, Mercer, Tarr, Fambough and Seger. It was explained that this committee will work north of Colorado.

Announcement was also made
of a meeting to be held at the city hall, Friday evening, by the Glendale Avenue Improvement association, of which Harry Levey is president, to organize for the promotion of the railway project in the south part of Glendale.

INDUSTRIAL NO. 4 DISTRICT FORMED

Lumber Yards and Mills
at Glendale and California to Beautify

Industrial District No. 4, which takes in the lumber yards and
mills in the region of Glendale
avenue and California street, was created last night by the Glendale
city council. A minority protest,
which had been filed during the week, was denied.

In explaining the action of the council in this matter, Mayor Robinson said:

"This matter has been hanging
fire for months. During this time
the members of the council have been earnestly studying the matter. In fact, the council has given more thought to this question than anything that has come up for months. We have interviewed all the merchants of this section, and most of the property owners in the district affected, and they are practically all of the opinion that this district should be formed. One of these companies alone has an annual payroll of $200,000; practically
all of which money is kept right
here in Glendale. We cannot see
but that this is the proper move to make. If we establish this district
the company will, according to their promises, beautify their holdings as much as possible, so that they will enhance the value of the surrounding property rather than depreciate it."

A protest was filed by Miss Ruth Byram and others, but the aim of the protestants was to have the
council incorporate in the ordinance something that would insure the companies' beautifying their holdings after the district has been formed.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP AT CATALINA ISLAND

Preparations are being made for the Boy Scout summer vacation
camp at Catalina Island, starting
July 20. Scout Executive H. F.
Benner of the Verdugo Hills district council and Tallman H. Trask,
executive for the Pasadena district, left this morning for the island. They will spend Sunday
and Monday checking up the camp
equipment and making final arrangements for the arrival of the boys.

An advance guard of boys will precede the camping party to the island by five days. They will erect tents and prepare the campgrounds. When the campers arrive
all they will have to do will be to take possession of tents and make themselves at home.

A squad of southern cooks has
been secured for the camping trip.
They are experienced camp cooks
and know what boys like to eat.

Southern Weather: Tonight
and Saturday, fair.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair
tonight and Saturday, with moderate temperature.

FINGER PRINTS TO BE TAKEN BY POLICE

Chief Fraser Asks Citizen
Cooperation in Report
of Strangers

An identification and finger-print
bureau is being installed in the police department. It will be under the direction of Police Lieutenant Joe Griffin.

Fred B. Kutz, president of the state division of International Association for Identification, and
also head of the identification bureau of the Los Angeles police department, was in Glendale Sunday
and spent the entire day going
over the system of identification
and finger-printing with Lieutenant Griffin.

The strength of the police department has also been increased
by the addition of five new patrol-
men. The city has been redistrict-ed and the beats shortened. This redistricting of the city, gives additional protection of the business sections in the main part of the city
and in the south end.

Patrolmen on duty at night have been instructed to try all doors of the various mercantile establishments and offices on their beats at least once each night and to patrol
the alleys. Motorcycle officers covering the residential and outlying
sections of the city have received
similar orders.

Chief of Police John D. Fraser
said this morning: "I am asking
the people of Glendale to co-operate with the department by informing us of any suspicious characters they may see and by giving
any information that will be of assistance to the department in apprehending law violators."

SHRINERS GREET PILGRIMS ON TOUR

Three Nobles Accept Hospitality of Shrine Club
at Masonic Temple

Three nobles of the Mystic Shrine, one from Berkeley, one
from Atlanta, Ga., and the other from Washington, D. C., were the first to accept the hospitality of the Shrine club open house. They were Bernard S. McMahon of the Shrine motor caravan from Berkeley, N. F. Sanford, Abba Temple, Atlanta, Ga., and A. Cloyd
Gill, Washington, D. C.

The reception committee, of which H. C. Vandewater is chairman, met the Nobles and after giving them the handshake and
"Howdy Noble!" served punch
(kickless), wafers and cigars.
Later they took the visitors on an automobile trip around the city and through the foothills. The reception committee on duty at the Masonic Temple yesterday, under the leadership of Mr. Vandewater, was as follows: Robert McKenzie, Julius Kranz, C. F. Hahn, A. O. Martin, G. C. Crane, D. Ripley Jackson,
Arthur Campbell and Ed Waxman.

A committee of ladies, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, will cooperate with the club in the entertainment of the visitors.

The Masonic Temple has been
decorated in honor of the visitors.
The device of the club is erected in the front yard, close to the American flag. The cars used to take the visiting Nobles around the city are decorated in orange and red, the Shrine colors.

An air of genial good-fellowship
radiates from the temple from daylight until dark and Nobles visiting Glendale are assured a royal
good time and "godspeed on their journey" that will make them
want to return.

Bonus Subscription Blank For Glendale Avenue Line

WHEREAS, the Union Pacific Railroad company is now operating and maintaining a railroad for freight purposes only on the southern portion of Glendale avenue in the city of Glendale; and WHEREAS, the operating of a steam engine on said street is noisy and very objectionable to the residents living on and near said Glendale avenue, it is proposed by the Union Pacific Railroad company to lease their railroad line from the intersection of their railroad line and Verdugo road in the city of Los Angeles, running thence westerly to Glendale avenue, in the city of Glendale, and thence northerly to the end of their right of way, on said Glendale avenue, to the Glendale and Montrose Railroad company and to arrange with said Glendale and Montrose Railroad company to handle all freight on said line of said line of railroad by electric motor or power. And it is also proposed by the Glendale and Montrose Railroad company to establish and maintain electric passenger-
car service on said railroad.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and of the benefits and advantages to be derived therefrom, my heirs, successors and assigns, do hereby certify that the maintenance of said
electric car service on said line of railroad, and the maintenance of said line of railroad for freight purposes, shall be paid to said trustees at the rate of $100,000 per year, in advance, on or before the first day of January, 1923, and on or before the first day of January, 1924, and on or before the first day of January, 1925, and on or before the first day of January, 1926, and on or before the first day of January, 1927, and

ARTIST SPENDS YEAR IN YOSEMITE

YOSEMITE, Calif., June 9.—Some folks "see" Yosemite park four days. But Gunnar Widforss, foremost Swedish watercolor landscape artist, has been in Yosemite park for more than a year painting pictures every day. He still finds a wealth of material to choose from.

Widforss (Paris Salon 1912) has been all over the Pacific coast, but did his American travels in search of scenic subjects when he reached this famous valley. He entered here and found a new Yosemite. He was one of the most recent participants in winter sports, skiing being his favorite. Widforss works as regularly as a park attache. Every morning he mounts his bicycle and starts in search of a new picture.

Vernal falls, Widforss says, is the most beautiful waterfall in all the world from the artistic standpoint. This is not because of the water itself, Widforss explains, but because of its wonderful setting of mountains, rocks, trees and mist.

Following a recent rain Widforss pointed out to guests of Yosemite lodge that the atmosphere was so clear that it was possible to see individual branches on trees atop Glacier Point. This clearness, he said, is typical of Sweden, and is responsible for the brilliant colors in which Swedish artists paint.

TRADES HIS BOOZE FOR HER ROSES

Miss Ethel Mantell, 1921.

Miss Ethel Mantell, player of note and daughter of the famous Robert Mantell, is a militant prohibitionist, and at a fashionable gathering in Los Angeles she exchanged a bunch of roses for the host's wine cellar and then destroyed a $12,000 stock of rare beverages with a golf club.

BELLEAU VILLAGE TO BE REBUILT AS MEMORIAL

Contributions to Be Asked of Citizens for Work

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A plan to begin the rebuilding of the French village of Belleau as a permanent memorial to the American dead of the A. E. F. through contributions of 25 cents from all citizens on June 6, tomorrow, was launched here today by the Belleau Wood Memorial association.

June 6 will be the fourth anniversary of the second division's successful entry into Belleau Wood, now officially called Bois de la Brigade de Marine. The historic wood was completely cleared of Germans in 31 days, but at a cost of 9,063 American casualties.

Vice President Calvin Coolidge is chairman of the association's national committee, the honorary president of the organization is Secretary of War John W. Weeks, and the 160 officers and committee members include Marshal Poch, James M. Beck, Secretary Denby, Speaker Gillet, Newton D. Baker, Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Willard Saulsbury, and a number of senators and representatives.

"All we ask is that everybody who is at all interested in erecting a useful memorial to our heroic dead of the A. E. F. send 25 cents in stamps or any other form to our headquarters at 220 Mills Building, Washington, D. C.," said Mrs. Frazer, the national president.

"According to the official estimates of the French government it will cost $300,000 to rebuild the village of Belleau, which was completely destroyed as a military necessity by the artillery of the 26th (New England) division. The infantry and marines of the 2nd division cleared Belleau Wood and the 26th took the town on July 18, the morning of the great allied counter attack which started the enemy retreat, ending only on Armistice day.

"There are 2438 Americans in the national Alsine-Marne cemetery at Belleau representing ever state in the Union, the District of Columbia and Panama.

The clergyman was sitting in his study hard at work on the following Sunday morning's sermon when a visitor was announced.

She was a hard, muscular looking woman, and when the minister offered her a chair she said brusquely, "You are Mr. Jenkins, aren't you?"

"I am," replied the good man.

"Well, maybe you remember marryin' a couple of strangers at your church a month ago?"

"What are the names?" asked the clergyman.

"Benjamin Simpson Brown," replied the woman. "I'm Ethel."

"Are you, indeed?" asked the minister. "I think I remember."

"Yes," interrupted the visitor. "I'm her, all right, and I thought as how I ought to drop in and tell you that Benjamin escaped."

A woman can forgive a fool if she is the reason.

GLENDALE

DAMAGED

CHATS WITH MARTHA ALICIA

WHEN MILADY is dressed for the street or for the ball, her costume, however beautiful, is incomplete without correct shoes. And if you would wear shoes of the very newest mode, exquisitely designed and perfectly fitted to your foot—just drop in at the GLENDALE BOOTERY, 221 North Brand Blvd.—for there you'll find a pleasing display of smart shoes for all occasions! And the price—why, my dear, this morning I was simply amazed to learn the amount of money one can save on shoes by buying them at the Glendale Bootery, rather than in the city. For instance, there's a good-looking "radio pump," to be had in either the black or the white—a shoe of excellent quality and design, for only $5.50—the Los Angeles price is just $10! And then, oh, joy! those popular "flappers"—the new sport model that is quite the thing right now, in sand color, with quarter and patent trim—for only $7.50! Then there are good-looking dress slippers in a number of attractive styles in patent, satin or white, for but $7.50, which your choice of the Louis or Flapper heel! Then, to be sure, there's also a wide variety of models in the summer white, at prices that range from $3.00 to $12.00—do drop in and see them for yourself!

A charming sports dress of rose pink linen with voile lower sleeves to match, and colorful embroidery used as bands and for a sash, is a summer mode gently influenced by the Russian styles.

IT'S A WONDERFUL FEELING to awaken in the early morning, fresh from a good night's sleep—rested and ready to face the new day with a pep and enthusiasm that is indomitable! Just such a feeling can be brought about with the right kind of a mattress, for, my love, a "comfy" mattress is the secret of all good rest! Then come with me, to the FURNITURE STORE OF GLENN B. PORTER, 124 W. Broadway—for they've a wonderful stock of dandy mattresses, in all sizes and of all materials—at prices you may be assured are right! Oh! And Porter's also carry those wonderful folding wall beds for the new home—for only $27.50! Everything in the line of beautiful furnishings that the Bride-to-Be may need for her home—are to be found at Porter's Furniture Store—drop in and look them over!

The natural tan of pongee is a smart summer color, and the fabric is durable for a useful two-piece suit. In one the peplum of the jacket, the loose, bell cuffs and the hem of the skirt are trimmed with fluted bands, adding novelty to an otherwise simple costume.

AND THIS WAS A SURPRISE! When I stopped in at the ALTA ARNOLD SHOPPE, 123 W. Broadway, today, I discovered that this Arnold had opened a dress-making specialty in specializing in "fashionable" summer dresses that are attractive and comfortable. I was attracted by a dress that was a trousseau or a vacation outfit that is utterly different from the one I designed for you at the Alta Arnold Shoppe—for her prices as well as her workmanship, are pleasing!

In a charming model wrap, elegant individuality is afforded by the applique embroidery in pale gray silk on the soft, dark-blue velvety. It has an exaggerated collar of gray crepe, also a tie, fashioned of the silk. Pale gray crepe de chine lining is used in this model.

THE FURNISHINGS for "HONEYMOON HOME" must be selected with the utmost care and consideration, that all will be harmonious and lovely for the Newlyweds! That's why we'll just drop in at the ENTERPRISE FURNITURE CO., 216 East Broadway, to make out purchases, for there, my friend, we'll find a pleasing assortment of high-grade furniture of all kinds! In the line of rugs, I know the Enterprise by far excels all competitive displays, for they've a wonderful collection of fine Wilton rugs, body Brussels, Colonial velvets—and even to the popular Congoleum rugs, in a color variety that is rich and beautiful! And, as for beautiful fibre and grass furniture, crotone upholstered, and handsome dining sets in mahogany and walnut, with chairs to match, upholstered in blue or brown leather—there's none better, for the Enterprise Furniture store specializes in distinctive and good-looking home furnishings at reasonable prices!

Unusual width in the skirt is characteristic of a long-awaited frock of dark blue twill. Lather color duvetyne is used for the narrow bindings.

GLENDALE 180—are the magic numbers that will bring a representative of BAINES' SHOE REPAIR SHOP, 312 E. Broadway—to your home, post haste! Yes, you know Baines maintain an excellent delivery service—calling for and delivering shoes to be repaired—all in the same day! And the beauty of it is, that there is no extra charge for this service—in fact, their prices are really conceded to be the cheapest in town! Only $1.50 for ladies' shoes to be half-soled and rubber-heeled, and $1.90 for men's! Then, too, if the kiddies' shoes are ripped, just send them down to Baines' Shoe Repair Shop, opposite the fire station, you know—and they'll mend them free of charge!

A sports suit introducing a rather long, flaring jacket, buttoned high in the neck and having raglan shoulders and long sleeves, is popular. The material is tan-tanish rose homespun, and the belt is patent leather with metal buckle.

I'M WONDERING IF YOU'VE EVER stopped to think of the actual money, in dollars and cents, that might be saved by doing your shopping right here in Glendale? Probably not—so we'll take for an example the trousseau of the June Bride—she'll be satisfied with none other than the best! Then can you believe that she might be able to save 10% on every hundred dollars' worth of merchandise she purchases? You will, then, be surprised to learn that she can actually save much more than that, my dear, and this you'll verify by shopping first in the city, inquiring prices on desired articles—and then by purchasing them in Glendale from the shops you'll find spoken of below! The quality is the very same thing—for oftentimes the articles are bought from the same manufacturer—but, due to the fact that these Glendale merchants can operate with a greatly reduced overhead expense—they are able to give you the benefit of what, under ordinary conditions, would amount to their profit! Just check up on these figures, dear Bride-to-Be—and you'll find them true! Then, you'll agree with me, I know, that not only is it a pleasure to shop in Glendale—but it absolutely pays to BUY AT HOME!

SALES ARE MY WEAKNESS! That's why I'm thrilled at the very thought of the BIG JUNE SALE now in progress at FISHER'S VARIETY STORE, 212 E. Broadway, for, my dear, they're offering most unusual bargains in household goods and dinnerware, as well as lovely laces and hosiery! Each day during this phenomenal sale month, there'll be several interesting specials offered in some department! And then, too, each week will see the offering of newer, more attractive items at reduced prices! Make it a specialty for you to lay in a goodly supply of the household necessities which you need—at prices that are a great saving!

Unusual width in the skirt is characteristic of a long-awaited frock of dark blue twill. Lather color duvetyne is used for the narrow bindings.

There IS A WINSOMENESS about the quaint Oriental ware that is to be found at the JAPAN ART and TEA CO., 135 S. Brand Blvd., that is irresistible! I know you'll enjoy shopping there for the June bride—as they've most everything imaginable in the way of appropriate and pleasing wedding gifts, moderately priced! The "Sweet Girl Graduate," too, will appreciate a lovely tea or chocolate set imported from the Orient, or an attractive lacquer tray, or, mayhap, a stunning vase or jardiniere! Yes, indeed, there's all manner of beautiful gift suggestions for all occasions at the Japan Art and Tea Co. And oh, my friend, be sure to be at the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AUDITORIUM on Wednesday evening next—June 14th—as then will be held the final drawing for the lovely prizes being offered with purchase coupons! You may be the fortunate one—drawing either a $50 baby buggy or lovely hand-painted tea or chocolate set! If you've not received a coupon, just drop in at the Japan Art and Tea Co. and make a small purchase which entitles you to one—then, wait till Wednesday night!

PICNIC SHOWS THE HUMAN SIDE OF EDUCATION

Girls in High Learn the Joy of Good
Acts

By GERTRUDE GIBBS
There are some things taught or at least encouraged in Glendale High which are more precious than the three Rs raised to the nth degree as represented by modern education. The children are there learning how to live in the best, most human sense. That was demonstrated in the picnic which the Girl's league gave this week for some children of "the other half" who live down in the poorer

Glendale has come to be a word to conjure within that school because last spring a group of 30 or more shy, serious-faced little boys and girls, who perhaps had never been out of Los Angeles in their lives were brought to the Glendale

We were routed to the Glendale campus and there met the first of the pretty young girls. There were dark-haired Immanuelles with Italy stamped upon them, Marias with lips made for the soft Spanish vocabularies, swarthy Mexicans, fair-haired Swedish-Americans, the Jew, Gentile, Catholic, Lutheran, all eager for love, all ready to respond to the advances of any of each little hostess and all small but indignant at the thought of a short but glorious egg hunt they enjoyed, which merged into a more glorious party lavish in ice cream and cake, which sent them home radiating smiles of happiness.

The league hostesses who had pulled the heavens into 30 starved lives declared they never had so much fun in their lives and that was probably why they were so loved by the Griffith Park picnic. About this earlier function, however, there was a little mystery. Sixty children had been expected and but 30 appeared. It all came out, however. The other 30 were all married and were decently clothed for such a party, and so they were all they had. And so they were left behind with lumps in their throats and big disannoints.

The record doesn't tell what sort of broadcasting station was set up, but anyway the facts are that these sore childish hearts were unreleased to the Girls' league, which is always ready for any emergency call for fairy godmothers.

Members at once got busy and soon the outfit of good clothing for 30 little girls was collected together and sent by rail.

gotten together and sent by a mid-summer messenger of Santa Claus to the place they were intended to reach. Then the picnic at Griffith park was arranged, the caravan of autos was sent for the small guests and the joys of another happy day were recorded by angels who had been hearing wails arising from

The wireless began to buzz again and this time it seemed to be listening in and transmitting the discussion among the angels as to whether in their time on earth there were any girls' leagues functioning in the public schools which did such kind things in such a beautiful way.

The angel was right and the reason why the girls of the league were so much joy out of these experiences, because when they are with their sisters or the good mother for even a day to heal the hurts in the hearts of little children, they are learning how to live in the truest sense, not in theory.

whole-sale quantities across the United States-Canadian boundary and the sweetheart of a Royal Mounted policeman charged with enforcing the law, has a fine, emotional role, while the part opposite her, that of a mounted policeman, is ably played by Tom Moore. The picture was taken in the mountains amid the snows, and is pictorially very beautiful. The ordinary, very scene is a gem, and in its selection for inclusion in the picture, marks the artistic sense which made Penrhyn Stanlaws a power in the art world before becoming a director. The supporting company is wholly adequate.

FREEDOM FOR FILIPINOS

The delegation now in this country to demand immediate independence for the Philippines has arrived at an inopportune time. Only recently has General Wood completed a survey of conditions in the islands, rescued them from a threatened financial chaos, and formed the opinion that they are not ready for self government. His word will be taken against any number of political politicians.

People familiar with the Philippines declare that the agitators who voice the demand for independence, do not represent the people, but only their own selfish interests. They have dipped deep into the capital supplied by the United States, and they have enjoyed and signally abused power for the exercise of which they have proved themselves unfit.

Former Governor General Harrison has much to say to account. His rule was a confusing and hurtful regime. It brought him into utter contempt with all but the native coterie of which he was the center. The members of this he flattered, and was by them flattered. To the observing public he was a ridiculous figure. The harm he did was in making his followers believe they were being wronged by the government that had maintained in their behalf, an altruistic policy without parallel in the history of nations.

The quickest way for the Filipinos to win absolute freedom is to go home, work, study, behaving themselves meanwhile, and prove that they deserve the confidence they demand shall be displayed by turning them loose. In a generation or two such a request as they make may have the color of reason, which now it utterly lacks.

MEANNESS OF THEFT

Recently a thief broke into a room and stole a suit of clothes. He left a note saying that he needed the garments more than the owner needed them. While this would be no justification, even were it true, there is grave doubt that it is true.

In the suit was $15, all the money possessed by the owner, who had just lost the job at which he had earned the modest sum. It happened that he was the father of two children, that his wife was in the county hospital awaiting arrival of the third, and that she required delicacies that this money could have procured.

The loser of the suit and money was an ex-soldier. He has made a statement of the circumstances, and asks the thief at least to send the money to the wife at the hospital. It is not probable that there will be any response. The honor that lurks in the bosom of a thief is an imaginary quality.

Perhaps the thief, considered as a type, never stops to think of the intrinsic meanness of his act. For the lazy loafer to take the substance earned by a person who is willing to toil, is an offense far deeper than is to be described in the statutes. The thief in this instance, if he has the lingering elements of manhood about him, must hate himself upon learning the precise effects of his acts. There scarcely is a hope that he hates himself $15 worth.

BUSINESS WITH CHINA

The statement is cabled from China that American enterprises there are starving for capital, while British and French interests flourish. If this is true, the financiers of the United States are to blame. They have at command more money than any other class of people in the world. If they permit England or France to outdo them in the Orient, there does not seem any ground for protest.

There comes also the story that China is defaulting as to American obligations and promptly meeting those of other countries. If this is the case it must be due to pressure exerted by the other creditors. The Chinese feel more friendly towards the United States than they do to any nation of Europe. There is sound reason for this. The United States has treated China fairly and honestly. It never has seized Chinese territory, and never has made arbitrary demands upon the Chinese government. When by all usage, the United States was entitled to damages in connection with the Boxer rebellion, it voluntarily employed the money for the benefit of China, and the Chinese have not forgotten.

American residents of China are said to wonder why the United States is permitting the powers to default on loans, while these powers are using money to block American trade in the Orient. It does seem as though the subject were worth serious thought. There is no people that has by location or through sentiment, a better right than the American people, to maintain cordial and extensive commercial relations with China.

FORD WOULD LISTEN

From Detroit comes the information that Henry Ford will not seek the presidency. He is reported, however, to be in a mood to heed the call of the people. Friends would do well to tell the gentleman not to devote any time to listening for the call. He is a very busy and useful person in his present walk of life. Were circumstances to call him to another station, it is feared that the stream of vehicles turned out in such volume under the magic of his supervision would lessen. Besides, Mr. Ford has not shown qualities that suggest his adaptability to the White House.

In his chosen field Ford is an unparalleled success. He has more than realized the dream that came to him when as a skilled mechanic, he fancied he could create a system of locomotion such as now is represented by millions of machines, some newly varnished, some battered and worn, but still rambling along. He has promoted human happiness, made himself rich, furnished many with employment. When he has stepped outside the domain in which he is, and deserves to be, a dominant figure, he does not loom as great and towering. On the witness stand once he displayed an ignorance of events, persons, history, that was almost unbelievable. His answers to questions would not have been creditable to a school boy of ten years.

Recently Ford has proposed a currency scheme declared by all financiers to be as wild as any ever conceived in the days when populist whippers flourished at their greatest length. His idea that to make money is largely a matter of setting the printing press in motion, has been tried out in Russia, where it failed to work well. Nevertheless Ford is in many respects an admirable person. He is original, and along certain lines, the incarnation of effectiveness. But none of these lines leads in the direction of the presidency.

ONLY FAIR WAY

A sweeping cut has been made in the wages of several classes of railway labor. This was done by the United States railway labor board. Accompanying the decision was a strong minority report alleging that the decision had been made "without consideration for human needs."

It is impossible to impugn the motives of the majority. The conclusion that they acted in accord with their best judgment must be accepted. They had made an acute study of conditions. The common desire is to get business and all industrial activities back to a normal basis. Yet no action affecting directly or indirectly, millions of people, and formulated "without consideration for human needs" could be regarded as just. If the minority on the board represent the beliefs of a large proportion of the whose wages are reduced, the decision will fail of acceptance without a struggle against it, and then be accepted, if at all, with protesting reluctance. "Human needs" constitute the element that above all others, must have consideration.

If it is proper to reduce wages, the propriety of reducing the cost of living is equally clear. Were the two to come down together, each with regard for the status of the other, there could be no objection. If the wage earner is paying less rent, less for food, less for clothing, then a reduction of wages on a corresponding scale must be viewed as a wholly natural process. If the income of the railroads is being slashed by cuts in freight and passenger tariffs, and the wages of employees are cut only in proportion; and all these facts can be demonstrated to the wage earner, doubtless there will be acquiescence in the new scale. Such demonstration does not yet seem to be absolute and complete.

"Human needs" make up the vital equation of the problem. And both sides of the controversy are human.

GRIFFITH

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I have just met David Wark Griffith. He is among the greatest of moving picture producers. He is a tall, straight man, carefully dressed, with a pleasant countenance, a hawk-like nose, and an engaging smile. He is quick in his movements and direct in his speech. He has the air of one familiar with success and adept in great enterprises. His mind is thoroughly American in its point of view. His ideas are forward looking, his sympathies are intensely democratic and he is impatient with all varieties of bunk.

Like all sincere workers, he magnifies his calling. He has a great vision of the future of the moving picture, he apprehends it as the true universal language. Difference in language is one of the things that keep the nations of the world apart, and thus does its bit toward promoting wars. And he has deep hopes that somehow through the world-wide appeal of the picture the peoples of earth may be brought into a better brotherhood.

Every honest craftsman is at his best a preacher. That is, he conceives his calling as a sort of gospel, and has the desire to go into all the world and preach it.

While Griffith does not pose as an uplifter or a reformer, he sincerely believes that the work he is in has a message that will promote the welfare of the human race.

I subscribe to his creed, for I believe that no single influence today is exerted upon the public mind that is more effective in moulding the public than the moving picture. Those of us who have rather identified Griffith with massive backgrounds and smashing crowds and gorgeous spectacles may be surprised that it is not these things that receive his most concentrated attention. What he values most is the human touch, and his greatest efforts, he declares, "are devoted to working out those little intimate human touches which count for more in the success of a photo play than all the spectacular elements." And this, he continues, "is a humbling thought for the producer when he is tempted to stage the whirlwind and dramatize the cyclone."

He is willing to sit at the feet of the world, and recognizes that it is the public, after all, that is the ultimate arbiter and decides when an actor or actress possesses inherent dramatic ability, or when a picture has appeal.

Some of his ideas are, that small, slender women are most effective in capturing the sympathies of the public, perhaps because they appeal to the protective sense of the average spectator; that the normal face and figure please; and that the character that best fills photographic requirements is the fairly broad face, full cheek bones, a well-shaped nose not too prominent, good teeth, a mobile mouth, lips inclined to thinness, eyes that are wells of darkness rather than of light, and a general suggestion of healthfulness.

Still, he adds, you may have all these requirements without the divine fire of human sympathy. For it is humanity which is the touchstone of success, not only in film work, but in all dramatic appeal.

THE LISTENING POST

A lot of good things in this world require stirring.

Easy indolence does not develop anything. Look at the slug.

He is never stirred up. And he goes through life soft, mushy, flabby and useless.

A blob on a board.

Who wants to be a blob on a board? A slug on the sill?

A snail on a thorn? Souless, flabby, cold, jelly-like?

So we need to be stirred up occasionally. To be awakened.

The stirring process awakens the spirit. Makes it glow.

Just as when a dying fire is stirred. The sparks rise and the flames leap and the fire is reawakened.

The burned out ashes are scattered and there is renewed heat and warmth and light.

The big things of the world have been done by men and women who were stirred up.

Whose spirits were awakened. Dead fires were rekindled.

Renewed aspirations were brought to being. There was a stirring up.

The trials and difficulties of this life are for the purpose of stirring us up.

We are reawakened. Made to feel the thrill of life and struggle. Our spirits are quickened.

The public man who fights for the rights of people.

He is stirred up. The best spirit of him is made active. He feels the thrill of eloquence.

His words flow like mountain waters.

The musician, the poet, the artist, are persons whose spirits are stirred.

They work with high enthusiasm. White heat.

Their work is illumined with high purpose. And it is called genius.

The student, the general, the scientist, the great physician, the actor—all persons whose spirits are stirred.

They are wide awake. Acutely conscious of life and struggle and the need for high endeavor.

Stirred up, all of them. Not slugs on the sill.

Not blobs on a board. Not fat parasites, eating and drinking and sleeping.

But spirits that are wide awake.

Stir yourself up. Look upon trial and struggle as the stirring spoons of life.

Don't let your spiritual fires grow pale and cold. Keep stirred up. Find the thing to do.

And do it with a spirit that is awake.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

Forget Not Yet—By Sir Thom as Wyatt (1503-1542)

Forget not yet the tired intent
Of such a truth as I have meant;
My great travail so gladly spent,
Forget not yet!

Forget not yet when first began
The weary life ye know, since when
The suit, the service, none tell can;
Forget not yet!

Forget not yet the great assays,
The cruel wrong, the scornful ways,

The painful patience in delays,
Forget not yet!

Forget not! O, forget not this!
How long ago hath been and is,
The mind that never meant amiss—
Forget not yet!

Forget not then thine own approved,
To which so long hath thee so loved,
Whose steadfast faith yet never moved:
Forget not this!

Minister Tchitcherin is seeking rest. If he would simplify the spelling of his name he would be conferring the boon of rest on others.

Professor Ghent of the University of California has been pointing to the sins of journalism quite effectively, but without having to point a finger in this direction.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

THE RED CROSS IN EUROPE

[New York Times]

The end of the greatest crusade of mercy that the world has ever known is announced in the cable from Paris reporting the withdrawal of the American Red Cross from Europe. Wherever in future years the story of the world war is told, that of this crusade will be woven into it and will be gratefully remembered with it. It was the head of the Moslem Community at the very end of the "far-flung battle line" who, witnessing the work of the American Red Cross, wrote, in the language of his fatalistic doctrine, that America had been created in order that "out of compassion and charity" it might "do good to humanity." Jew added their tribute to that of the Moslem.

The amount that has been spent is nearly a half billion dollars in all. Yet this is only a fraction of the real contribution. Far beyond it, and beyond all estimates of what has been given in substance, is that which millions have given in themselves. The volunteer service in every community of the United States and in nearly every home, along with that in the distribution and application of Red Cross relief, all the way from the edge of the North Sea to the Euphrates, has constituted an incomparable spiritual gift. And what has been given "has left," as the report says, "an enduring impression on millions of grateful hearts."

It will be necessary to continue aid for individual groups here and there. There need of it for Russian refugees in Constantinople is especially appealing. There will remain a limited personnel to be of assistance to the government themselves in the maintenance of such Red Cross work as only the American Red Cross has hitherto undertaken. In some countries the Junior Red Cross will be continued. This is the elementary association of Sir James Barrie's "League of Youth." The need for such an organization is greater, if possible, than ever before.

It is a singular coincidence that the American Red Cross depots its great work in Europe just as the life of its knightly leader during the war, Henry P. Davison, has come to an end. But the influence of what that mighty organization of mercy has done under his mastery guidance is not measured by its years nor his. It would be a splendid living memorial to him if the League of Red Cross Societies, of which he was the author and founder, could be perpetuated in its disage-studying and heart-purifying mission till every child has at least a fair chance in whatever part of the earth it may be born.

MORE "MODERN" HISTORY

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Dr. Getsinger, announced to be a noted Egyptologist, says that Cheops was the ark of Noah. Cheops is a pyramid celebrated for its ponderous architecture. It is stationary. No man knows who builded it, or why.

According to Dr. Getsinger this stupendous pile was constructed by Noah, in token of his belief that a flood was coming. The good doctor finds that the flood came all right, and that it remained at high water mark for thousands of years. He discovered the water line on the pyramid.

All this is reasonable enough to anybody. The doctor makes a mistake, however, when he tries to link his conclusions to the biblical tale. The description of Noah's boat, given with some particularity, does not conform to any possible description of Cheops.

Moreover the ark was designed as a floating haven, bearing its passengers in safety for a period of days. Not much is known of Cheops to be sure, but the certainty that it never floated is absolute.

Consider that all but the upper part of it was submerged for thousands of years, the family gathered in the stony attic would not only have experienced a rather dreary time, but been hard pressed for sustenance. The natural increase of population of all sorts would have necessitated the sacrifice of countless numbers. There ought to be grooves down the side of Cheops, worn by the superfluous as they slid to watery doom.

Dr. Getsinger is more than welcome to tell all he knows of the pyramids, of their design, the wonderful methods of architect and contractor. But the ark hypothesis simply doesn't go. A boat is one thing and a pile of stone as different a thing as possible.

There was supposed to be no limit to the perspicuity of the supreme court, but that pleasing theory was overthrown the other day. The court was called to define the ouija board, and simply fell down.

The ordinary citizen would be likely to term it either a fad or a memory.

People of middle age easily remember the late Lillian Russell when she was at the zenith of her beauty, and most entrancing in her song. Lillian Russell, as she is certain to be known, was a remarkable woman. Gifted as an artist, she also had a charm which declined to fade with the years. People had almost begun to believe that she had conquered the secret of perpetual youth.

Bootlegging in New York is said to have taken on such dignity and volume that the smaller fry have been crowded out of the business. The sale of intoxicants is now conducted on a scale that requires real capital.

Nevertheless, New York, strangely provincial, and with a strong alien tincture, is within the jurisdiction of all the amendments. It is slow to learn, that's all.

Senator Watson accuses the representatives of foreign powers of being too active in trying to direct legislation and control business methods in this land of the free.

It is necessary to explain that Senator Watson of Indiana, not of Georgia, is the person bringing the charge. Had it been the other Watson the matter would not have been worth mentioning.

Revelation of new horrors in Russia leads Brisbane to blame the United States for conditions there! But why argue with the parlor bolshevist?

Harry Williams is one of the baseball writers who is regarded as an authority not only on the game itself but the ethics that should govern players and managers.

Mr. Williams is of the opinion that the recent decision of Judge Landis in expelling the Portland managers from the business in which their money is invested, is unjust because too severe.

To give one individual the authority to control another to the extent of making him abandon a chosen calling, certainly is giving more authority than it is sound public policy to bestow.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Ever hear of Mathew Fontaine Maury?

Very well, then. I never did either, until just a day or two ago. Then I happened to run across the story of Maury's broken leg in an old book. Perhaps the facts are being stretched a bit when it is said that the broken leg made Maury a great man—perhaps the greatest man of his day—but they are not being stretched unduly. If he had not had that misfortune he might have lived and died merely as a good sailor.

Because of the broken leg he discovered the natural laws that govern the winds of the sea.

He went to sea as a midshipman in an American ship in 1825. In time he rose to command a sloop. He studied his profession, but, after all, a sea-captain's studies are necessarily confined to his own ship and the winds and waves it meets. Then he went ashore and a stage overturned and his leg was broken. It unfitted him for sea service. Because he was deserving—half in charity, perhaps—the government put him in charge of a newly created bureau of charts and instruments at Washington. He was offered an opportunity to live and die in a nice, fat, easy-going job.

But Maury wasn't that sort of a man. Somehow, hundreds of log-books of American captains had been deposited in the archives at Washington and he began to study these. He learned from them that each sea captain encountered certain regular winds—regular, that is, in certain areas of the sea at certain times of the year. Out of that mass of unregarded material Maury worked out his charts and sailing directions that covered every sea and every climate.

"I know this is right," he told the bureaucrats at Washington. "Don't bother us," the bureaucrats probably replied. "Your job is not to make any progress. You have a job. Hold it."

But he kept on bothering them until a ship was sent out on a trial voyage and the accuracy of his charts of the tides and winds was proven. Out of that work of Maury's grew the weather bureau of today. When he died he had been called the greatest man America had ever produced.

But if he had had two good legs and had been able to follow his career at sea he might have lived and died unknown. A broken leg saved him.

MRS. YARD HEADS ALPHA CHAPTER

The last regular meeting of the Alpha chapter of the Delphian society was held at the public library, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. At this time the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. E. D. Yard, president; Mrs. W. F. Nash, first vice president; Mrs. S. P. Davis, second vice president, and Mrs. E. A. Bode, secretary.

The program of the morning included a short talk by Mrs. Yard, an interesting talk on "Alexandria" by Mrs. Wilcox, and Miss Wynn gave a fine book review, "The Mind in the Making," by Robinson.

All Delphians are invited to an informal closing meeting at the library next Thursday, June 15, at 10 a. m., which is being held by group No. 1, of which Mrs. Wilcox is president. Plans are under way for informal meetings the second Thursday of each month, during the summer, when the society will consider topics of interest in the work, and have some splendid book reviews.

'CLARENCE' WINS MRS. JACKSON

FIRST NIGHT AUDIENCE

Clever Acting Marks Production of Tarkington Play

An evening of undiluted and altogether delightful comedy was enjoyed by an audience which filled every seat and then some in the auditorium of Glendale high, Thursday evening, for the initial performance of "Clarence."

It was Booth Tarkington at his best, and no one who enjoys pure performance if he failed to see the first one and can possibly secure a seat.

It was very well played, and a production which is a credit to the cast and the coach, Miss Mona Gardner. There was little or no self-consciousness, all entering into their roles with an abandon which made them charmingly natural.

The title role, "Clarence," was played by George Jordan with fine, artistic sense of proportion not often displayed by an amateur. Genevieve Mulligan, as "Mrs. Wheeler," and Donald Cameron, as "Mr. Wheeler," were good pieces of portraiture. Harold Sprague as the raw, undisciplined cub, "Boyd Wheeler," and Virginia Huntley as the spoiled little flapper, "Cora Wheeler," could hardly overdo the parts assigned them, and were the life of the piece. As the languishing kitchen coquette, "Della," Mildred Stanford was highly diverting, and Dale Wood and Paul Hutchinson were irreproachable as "Dinwiddie" and "Hubert Stem."

Glendale has not seen so good a play in a long time, and should give the seniors a vote of thanks.

The school orchestra also did itself proud in the music provided between acts. Never has it acquitted itself more creditably than in the beautiful opening overture, "Flora" (Schlegel), which was played with spirit and an artistic finish that must have been most gratifying to the director, Mrs. Dora Gibson.

Another great treat of the program was the violin solo by Miss Hazel Linkogel, Andante from Concerto, by De Bioris, for which Mrs. Pearl G. Curran furnished a most beautiful piano accompaniment. Miss Linkogel has played well ever since she first came to Glendale, but she has made great strides within the past few months. The number was brilliantly interpreted and completely captured the audience, which refused to be satisfied until she had returned to the stage for an encore number.

There must have been excellent team work for the performance to go off so well, and it was evident that the committees in charge were efficient. Victor Colburn, business manager, has made it his business to look after all the loose ends and fill in the chinks. Paul Holland was stage manager; Albert Hewitt, electrical manager; George Fraley, property manager; Betty Ford, publicity manager, and John Richardson, head usher. Others gave generous service as ushers, valets and general assistants behind stage, for it was a school affair, and every one was ready to help put it over.

GUILD LADIES AT PLEASANT MEETING

The ladies of St. Mark's guild were kept busy on Thursday at their all-day meeting, when they devoted the day to sewing. At noon they enjoyed a picnic lunch, which was served to about 20 members. The president, Mrs. Mortimer Baker, was in charge of the meeting.

Plans were made for a party and dance, to be given at the chamber of commerce auditorium on the evening of June 20, for the members and friends of the parish. The annual church school picnic will be held June 26 at Brookside park, and this was also discussed.

The ladies took a standing vote to thank the Glendale Daily Press, Downing & Cox, and the Glendale Furnishing company for assisting in the bazaar, which was a huge success, netting around $200.

Mrs. Sam Cull and two children of Los Angeles will be the weekend guests of Mrs. R. E. Coutts of 230 West Colorado street.

BABY STEWART TO MISS VIOLA ELLIS TO GIVE TUESDAY CLUB PROGRAM

Two Years and a Half Old Tot to Be Star in Class of Toe Twinklers

This year the annual commencement and society vanguard of the Pearl Keller School of Dramatic Art and Dancing will be pre-

BABY STEWART
Infant Pupil of Pearl Keller

ented June 16 by Mr. Howe of the Glendale theatre, as he has made an inflexible rule not to rent his house.

It will be conducted as usual by Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain and the children will do more wonderful things and be more beautifully costumed than ever.

One of the little stars who is likely to create a furore is Bettie Jane Stewart, two and one-half years old, who will do a solo dance. She is the daughter of the proprietor of the C. & S. cafeteria.

The most elaborate number will be a garden dance by seven of the most advanced pupils, Dorothy Dutton, Cecelia Mae Fischer, Shirley and Leona Hunt and Helen Orr. The girls gave it last week at the Ambassador hotel and created a sensation. It is a picturesque thing, as the girls are dressed in the old-fashioned hoop-skirt gown, each in a different color, and carry parasols and fans.

The butterfly ballet, in which ten little girls will appear, and an oriental ballet in two groups, which will include forty children, will be outstanding features.

Most captivating of all will be the work of the baby class of thirty children, which, in groups of five or six, will give Mother Goose character dances, "Little Bo Peep," "Miss Muffet," etc.

Also there will be all kinds of solo dances, oriental, Grecian, Russian, toe, eccentric, character and interpretive dances.

As usual, the program will include recitations and song-and-dance numbers.

NORTHWEST LOTS ARE SOUGHT AS INVESTMENTS

Destiny of Section Is Painted in Scenery and Sites

The foothill section northwest of Glendale is destined to become the most sought-after property for residential purposes in this great San Fernando valley, as is evidenced by the great activity in subdivisions skirting the mountains.

The latest and one of the best pieces of property to be opened is the Glendale Villa tract, located at Tenth and Alameda, northwest of Glendale. Sale of this fine residential property opened this week, and there will be a scramble to get choice lots for the next few days, for a trip to this property by a Press reporter convinced him that the property is gilt-edge and bound to sell rapidly. There are eighty-six lots in this subdivision, varying in size from 40x150 feet to spacious tree acre home sites. The property overlooks the valley, and commands a most excellent view of the Verdugo mountains. This tract was known for many years as the Cole ranch, but was later purchased by Wm. Brice, who personally supervised all the improvements and has placed the same on the market. J. E. Viney, a live-wire realtor of Burbank, has charge of the selling, and has already sold several lots. Mr. Viney is wide awake to the great values offered and it will not be long before this choice subdivision is closed out; so he says, "better hurry, if you want to get in on the ground floor."

DOROTHY VIRGINIA TATUM
Dorothy Virginia Tatum, 21 years old, formerly of Blythe, Calif., was buried yesterday at 3:30 p. m. in Grand View Memorial Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking parlor.

Mrs. Tatum died at 504 Ethel street after an illness lasting three months. She is survived by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Wolford; her husband, Rupert F. Tatum, four brothers and two sisters.

"Crooks are made by trying to do good."

Rich, Colorful Voice to Be Heard to Advantage in Numbers

The program which members of the Tuesday Afternoon club will enjoy next week will be given by the dramatic contralto, Miss Viola Ellis, whose rich, colorful voice will be heard to advantage in a program of sufficient variety to prove of great interest.

It will open with the aria, "Amour Vient Aider," by Saine-Saens.

"I'm Wearing Awa".....Footie "Dawn".....Curran "The Silver Ring".....Chaminade "The Old Road".....John Prindle Scott "Here Bloom the Rose Trees".....Oscar Rasbach "A Mountain Vigil".....Charles Ferry "The Storm".....Charles Ferry "J'ai Pleure en Riv".....Hui "L'Esclaire".....Lalo "Le Tigre".....Marre

Miss Alma Geiger, the pianiste, who is a Glendalian, will also appear on the program, playing Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody."

Miss Ellis is a pupil of Oscar Sanger of New York, where she made her debut as the Yodoo Queen in "Naughty Marietta." She has toured the United States in concert, everywhere winning friends and admirers among critical music lovers.

She brings to her special art something more than a beautiful voice, and the many music lovers in the club can look forward to a treat.

COTTON SHOWS STUDIES IN ART

By GERTRUDE GIBBS

Today and tomorrow a beautiful collection of watercolors and etchings covering a wide variety of subjects, the work of our local artist, John W. Cotton, will be on exhibition at his home, 1137 San Rafael avenue, this city.

A preview of these charming landscapes demonstrated their fascination, though it cannot always be analyzed except for the always existent beauty, whether the subject be a brilliant riot of color caught on the edge of the desert at Palm Springs, in some painted canyon, or the sombre beauty of the north.

Mr. Cotton's travels have taken him to far places, and some of his choicest bits were caught in France, Belgium and England.

He has specialized of late on etchings, and has some very beautiful artist-proofs of his work, which he handled largely by dealers in New York. Some of his etchings are out of print and the plates destroyed, which means that they will steadily increase in value, because no more can be produced.

He and Mrs. Cotton lived for a considerable length of time at Hampstead, Heath, near London, where groups of trees, loved and painted by the artist's friends, are still known as "Constable's trees." Mr. Cotton painted them, too, and they are featured in some of his choicest etchings.

There is a beautiful, mysterious bit from Epping Forest. In another, the old belfry at Bruges, of which Longfellow wrote, towers dimly toward the stars, enveloped in purple night, with a splash of light at its feet where the street runs by. Still another nocturne pictures the home of Joan de Arc in the pale moonlight.

But lovely as these are, with quaint architecture to give an added charm, they are not more beautiful than certain Canadian scenes which Mr. Cotton has pictured.

Perhaps the Californian will find most lovely of all the varied landscapes of California, from the colorful studies of painted canyons and palms, to the mosaics of blue sky, flying cloud and snow-capped peak, caught in the high Sierras. Bits from our own Verdugo mountains are there, and a mysterious glimpse behind the scenes at the Pilgrimage play at Hollywood, in which Mr. Cotton enacted a role last year, that he is to repeat this year, for he is a man of more than one talent.

Like most gifted persons, Mr. Cotton is not without honor save in his own country, but that is chiefly his own fault, because he is a very modest and a very busy man.

Now that he has opened his house to permit the public to view his beautiful handwork, the opportunity should be improved by all lovers of pictures. They are certain to enjoy his collection, and if any of the visitors wish to buy from him, instead of paying a bigger price through the art dealers, the purchase can be made.

Those who lack automobiles can reach his home by taking the North Glendale car to Dryden street, walking three blocks west to San Rafael, and then north about half a block. The guests will find a most hospitable host and hostess.

BUDDY'S CAFE CHEF RETURNS

Mr. Weyer, proprietor of Buddy's cafe, decided to take a trip east, recently, and he accordingly took a Pullman diner and went on his way rejoicing. He made the round trip for a friend, who is chef in the diner of a transcontinental line, and which place Weyer filled for many years before locating in Glendale. Mr. Weyer is back and his friends again at the old stand.

He says Glendale is good enough for him.

SETBACK LAW IS PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Foundation Alignment Is Ordered Without Regarding Porches

The foundation setback ordinance, which makes it obligatory for builders to set the foundations of their buildings rather than the fronts of the porches in a line along the street, was adopted by the city council last night.

This question has been hanging fire for a long time. Up to a short time ago a majority of the councilmen were in favor of having the front of the house, be it the porch or the foundation, on the line, but recent investigations have caused the members to change their minds in this respect. When the matter was brought to a vote last night the board was unanimously in favor of the foundation setback line.

PLAN GREAT YACHT HARBOR AT SANTA MONICA

Big Project to Create the Greatest Anchorage in World, Announced

Plans are now under way which will make Santa Monica "the world's greatest yachting harbor." The big project will be presented at a dinner of the Greater Santa Monica club, in the Sunset Inn, Santa Monica, this evening.

There will be speeches, and permanent committees, including representatives of all Southern California, will be appointed that evening, to work toward accomplishing this great pleasure harbor.

A replica in miniature of the outline of the proposed breakwater and shore lines, will be shown at the banquet. It is hoped to create a harbor which will be large enough to shelter all the pleasure craft in the world.

Reservations for the banquet should be ordered from the Greater Santa Monica club.

HARRIMAN'S PLAN FOR HUGE MERGER

CHICAGO, June 9.—Merging of the railroad systems of the United States into three or four groups is under consideration, William C. Bierd, president of the Chicago and Alton railroad, told the United Press today.

Bierd's declaration came following reports that the Chicago and Alton and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas roads were to be consolidated.

RESTRICTED CAMP RECEIVES PERMIT

Promises to Operate Tourist Parking Place in First Class Way

W. T. Sandlin was granted by the city council last night a permit to operate an automobile campground at 146 South San Fernando road. The permit was granted after the members of the council had struggled with the question for a half hour, at the end of which time the vote on the question was split.

The permit was granted with the understanding that attractive buildings, if any be constructed, lavatories, toilets, water and gas be installed, and the place put in the most sanitary condition possible, and maintained in this condition, and that no person or party shall remain there more than 30 days in any six months.

"I have said before that I will not vote for another privately-owned auto camping park in Glendale," said Councilman Lapham, "and I am going to stick to that stand in this matter. In the past we have had nothing but trouble with these auto parks and for that reason I will vote against any and all of them. If it is desired to establish a municipally owned and operated campground, I will vote for it and will do everything I can to make it a credit to the city, but nix on these privately-owned grounds."

"I think that grounds of this kind are needed in any city, but I do believe that a limit of say 30 days should be placed on the time any party can remain in the camp," said Councilman Kimlin.

"That's the very point I raised the last time this proposition was brought up," said Councilman Stevenson, "but I will not vote for this permit if some time limit is not set."

When asked for his opinion on the subject, City Manager Reeves said:

"I think the public campground is a splendid idea when the camps are properly conducted. Almost all the cities of any importance in Southern California have grounds of this character. Most of these are municipally owned and cared for. I can see no reason why a camp could not be privately owned and still taken care of in a satisfactory manner."

"An official of the Pasadena city administration informs me that the auto campground in the arroyo in that city has brought many tourists to that city. Most of these people have money and they are out looking for a place to locate. Their stay in every instance means cash in the pockets of the business man, and over in Pasadena many of the people who have camped there have remained to purchase property in that city. I do think it is a good idea, however, to limit the stay of any party to 30 days in any six months."

"While I think this camp will damage the surrounding property," said Mr. Davis, "I am going to vote to grant this permit on the strength that all of the property owners in the vicinity have signed the petition asking that it be established."

When the matter was brought to a vote all of the councilmen except Councilman Lapham voted in favor of the camp.

COLUMBIAS MAKE GOOD GIFTS

W. A. Kenny, of Kenny's Music Shop, North Brand, says that his line of Columbias will make a gift for the graduate that will be appreciated; and to back up this statement he quotes "dozens" of those of the younger set who have at times expressed a desire to own a Columbia. Mr. Kenny has an exceptionally good line of records and machines on hand and will take one to your home for a very small payment, and the balance like "finding it."

"Business has been very good with me," said Kenny, "notwithstanding this is considered the dull season in the music business, and I have no complaint to make, but I can always take care of another customer, and my motto is 'service that serves.'"

WOMEN'S CLUB OF LA CRESCENTA LAST MEETING

Installation of Officers and Reception to Mark Wind-up

LA CRESCENTA, June 9.—Next Wednesday afternoon, at the school auditorium, the La Crescenta Women's club will hold its last meeting of the year. Installation of the officers for the coming year, followed by a reception, will be part of the afternoon's program. The retiring officers are: Mrs. F. H. Anderson, president; Mrs. Seymour Thomas, first vice president; Mrs. S. B. Young, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Turk, third vice president; Mrs. C. W. Anger, fourth vice president; Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, treasurer; Mrs. M. S. Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Wildhack, corresponding secretary.

Directors for the past year were Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Mrs. F. K. Czerniski, Mrs. H. S. Bissell and Mrs. Glen Peck.

Children's day will be celebrated at the Community church next Sunday morning. A splendid program has been prepared. The entire Sunday school will take part. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. C. W. Angier, Mrs. Daniel Wetherbee, Miss Gertrude Bickel, Mrs. A. Burt and Mrs. Richard Stine. The exercises will open at 10:30 a. m. There will be no services Sunday morning.

Mrs. Virginia B. Claffin and Henry Claffin returned Thursday from a motor trip to Riverside.

METHODIST SISTERS ENJOY MEETING

The Sisterhood class of the First Methodist church enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon on Thursday, when it met in the church parlors. The meeting opened with a song by the class, with Miss Charlotte Heroy at the piano. About 50 members were present. The business session was held, and following this was the regular class party.

The guests were given a treat of some very sweet music when Miss M. O. Marsh, at the piano, played about 20 of the old songs, such as "The Last Rose of Summer," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "My Maryland" and "Annie Laurie" and many others, besides some of the older hymns. The object was for the ladies to guess the names of the numbers played to see who could guess the most of them. It would seem that this would be simple, but Miss Marsh played with so many variations that it was rather difficult. Mrs. A. E. Laas and Miss Charlotte Heroy were the prize-winners in the contest.

The committee in charge of this entertainment consisted of Mrs. H. E. Gaylord and Miss M. O. Marsh. Following the program, dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. D. Potter, Mrs. H. Nicolaus, Mrs. A. J. Shepherd, Mrs. K. Drug, Mrs. J. B. Moule, Mrs. E. H. Olmstead, Mrs. F. A. Trowbridge and Mrs. C. S. Prime.

A Year Ago Today

From the Glendale Daily Press of June 9, 1921.

Work on the third floor of the Elks' club is progressing very fast. The 11 rooms that are being added to the building will be completed by next week. All of the rooms have been rented in advance.

The social organization of the Women's Relief Corps, better known as the Kensington club, met yesterday at the home of Mrs. C. R. Norton.

Members of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle held their last meeting of the year at the city library yesterday afternoon, with about 45 members present.

The motorman of the Pacific Electric train which caused the death of Miss Eugenia L. Lindsey at Los Feliz and Brand boulevard, was tried on a speeding charge in Judge Lowe's court this morning and fined $20.

BROADWAY STORE STAGES SHOE SALE

The Broadway shoe store, 312 East Broadway, is in the midst of a big shoe sale this week, and is quoting prices elsewhere in this paper that should bring a big business tomorrow, and next week as well. Good reliable shoes are offered at very low prices, and Mr. Smith, the proprietor, says he expects to do a big business for the next several days if low prices and good values are any incentive to buyers.

HAD A BIG BUSINESS

Korn, the tailor at 221 South Brand, has the distinction of having conducted a big tailoring establishment on South Broadway in Los Angeles, before coming to Glendale. He handled the very best trade of the city, and his old receipts show that it was no uncommon thing for him to make a $200 suit for the elite of the Angel City. He gives every customer his personal attention, and is building up a good business here.

"Why, Edna," said a mother to her little daughter, "what have you done to your doll's eyes?" "I took 'em out," replied Edna, "so she couldn't see that she had to sleep in a dark room."

Next to saying you are jealous a girl would rather have you tell her that she inspires you to noble things.

'SLEEPING BEAUTY' TO MARK CLOSE OF SCHOOL

La Crescenta Children to Hold Commencement Wednesday

LA CRESCENTA, June 9.—The schools of La Crescenta will close on Thursday, June 22. The graduation exercises will be held on Wednesday evening at the school auditorium. A class of 15 will graduate this year. Following the graduation exercises, a short drama, "The Sleeping Beauty," will be given by pupils of the seventh and eighth grades.

FIREWORKS UNDER BAN IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—Oregon will be without firecrackers this Fourth of July. The days when young patriots stood bravely by the side of "giant crackers" to observe at first hand the phenomena of their disintegration under the stress of exploding powder, have gone, never to return. All because the state dads, in legislature assembled, passed an act during the 1921 session, and which became effective January 1, of this year, banning firecrackers, rockets, canes and all sundry and diverse forms of explosives and pyrotechnics heretofore indissolubly associated with the celebration of the day when John Hancock took his pen in hand.

Not only is the use of these things forbidden, but their possession as well. The state fire marshal is empowered by the act to confiscate and remove for appropriate destruction whatsoever of these appurtenances to the old-time glorious Fourth are found within the state of Oregon. The youth of the state, however, are permitted to stand by and marvel at whatever municipal display of fireworks the cities and towns of Oregon may see fit to stage on the day in question.

The classified advertisement which solves a problem for you renders real service — with little cost.

Love is always a poor thing so long as it tries to save itself.

WEST VIRGINIA REUNION
All who ever lived in the "Little Mountain State" are invited to our annual picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, June 17, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. We will have day registers and headquarters so you can find the old neighbors, even with thousands present. There will be a brief program, opening about 2 o'clock, but the main purpose will be to have a good time and to meet your friends from all over Southern California. We want to see all the visitors from the old home state, as well as our residents, so as to make this the greatest picnic in our history. Bring your baskets well filled. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the souvenir badges. Each one who learns of this picnic is asked to pass the word along. Our success is up to you. Only through you can we reach the people. President J. B. Alexander will preside. Further information may be had of C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of state societies, Continental National bank, 901 South Main street, Los Angeles (phone 10261), or the president, Boyle 4994.

One of the luckiest things that can happen to a man is not to count on his luck.

MUIR WOODS MEET IS ENDORSED BY GRAND LODGE

Sunrise Convention and Initiation Approved by K. P. Executives

The Grand Lodge Session, Knights of Pythias, held at Chico, unanimously endorsed the sunrise convention and initiation to be held by Northern California lodges in Muir Woods, Marin county, July 3 and 4.

Onward lodge of Sacramento has chartered three special trains on the Sacramento Short Line to carry its members to the convention. They will bring with them a band of 50 pieces and a degree team of 50, according to word received by D. H. Wyckoff, director of the affair.

On the night of July 3, San Jose lodge will put on the play of "Daedon and Pythias," with a cast of 40 people, in a natural amphitheater formed by a mammoth redwood grove.
